The problem

Though cute, typical tea towels aren't very absorbent, so they're not super useful when it comes to wiping your hands, drying dishes or soaking up little kitchen spills. Plus, they don't always dry very quickly and can start to harbor a musty smell. And many of them are made from non-organic cotton, which is often polluted with harmful chemicals from pesticides as it grows.

Norwex solution

Stylish, absorbent and handy to have in the kitchen, our 30th anniversary Tea Towels are perfect for soaking up spills, drying dishes and adding a pop of Nordic-inspired color that complements any décor. BacLock* helps keep them fresher longer, and they're made from 70% recycled microfiber yarn, which helps to keep plastic out of the environment and requires no harmful pesticides.

Why they're better

- Densely woven, superfine Norwex Microfiber physically removes up to 99% of bacteria from a surface with water alone when following proper care and use instructions
- Earth-friendly – each Tea Towel is constructed using 5.1 recycled plastic bottles (500 ml)
- Save money and protect the environment by reducing paper towel consumption and use of cotton
- BacLock*, our exclusive micro silver agent, protects the cloth by inhibiting odor in the cloth, which means they're ready to use again and again
- STANDARD 100 by OEKO-TEX® certified, this product and its components have been tested against a list of over 350 harmful substances and passed, enabling you to make responsible decisions for you and your family

Did you know

- While a tea towel is usually defined as “a cloth for drying dishes,” its origin in 18th century England was to help insulate warm tea pots – hence the name “tea towel”
- In honor of our 30th anniversary, these Tea Towels are a true symbol of sustainability, innovation and celebration. They’re not only a beautiful memento but also a step toward a cleaner, safer, better way of living.
- Waffle weave microfiber has more surface area than other weaves, which increases absorbency. The lightweight, breathable fabric also allows air to flow through more easily, so it dries fast.
- With less lint than traditional cotton cloths, these towels help provide a friendlier environment for allergy-sensitive individuals
- Non-organic cotton uses more pesticides than any other crop
